Project

Field(s) European Remembrance

Description The general objective is divided into three sections:

- To elaborate a brief analysis of the Treaty of Rome and the possibilities it offered to European countries.
- To focus on female migrations from Navarre (and adjoining regions of Spain) to countries such as France, Germany or Switzerland in the period prior to Spain's entry into the EEC, highlighting the testimonies of the protagonists (when they leave, to where...), their work at the place of destination and when they came back home.
- To focus on the present moment, analyzing the displacements that are taking place the last years and to compare them with those that mentioned in the first paragraph.
